HUNDREDS MORE.

Added to the List of Gen. Slocum Victims.

Nearly 900 Bodies So Far Recovered and 300 More Still Missing.

New York, June 21.—Evidence of a startling nature, which doubtless will have an important bearing on the result of the coroner's inquiry into the Gen. Slocum disaster, was forthcoming at the inquest today.

Perhaps the most unexpected incident was the continued refusal to answer questions of Henry Lundberg, a United States Steamboat Inspector, who was supposed to have inspected the life preservers and the hull of the ill-fated steamer. His refusal was based on the ground that an answer might tend to criminate him, and he acted on the advice of his counsel.

The coroner committed Lundberg to the House of Detention, but later accepted $500 bail for his appearance at the hearing tomorrow, which was satisfactory to the Assistant District Attorney.

By the use of dynamite and heavy guns fired by men from the Second battery scores of bodies were brought up from the bottom around the shores near North Brother Island today.

The searching along the beach and in boats gathered in 112, bringing the number of bodies recovered up to date up to the appalling total of 845.

Three Hundred Still Missing.

Of these 700 have been identified, and the missing still are approximately at something more than 300. Many of the bodies last found never will be identified because of changes that have taken place during the two years they have been under water.

The harvest of victims who lost their lives in the Gen. Slocum disaster continued today. All through the night, despite the terrific electrical storm that swept over the city, the searchers held to their grousing work, and early today the total number of bodies recovered had reached more than 800, and it was expected that every hour during the day would add to the number.

It was hoped that identification would materially reduce the large list of missing before sight. An alarming result of the developments of the last three or four days has been that, although more than 200 bodies have been taken from the river, the list of missing has remained almost unchanged. Today when the total list of bodies recovered is 845, the list of missing continued well in excess of 300.

Thirty-Seven More Bodies.

New York, June 22.—Bodies of victims continue to be found in the waters adjacent to the scene of the disaster. To-day thirty-seven came to the surface, making the total number recovered 882. Of these 778 have been identified. Despite the fact that the police are expending every energy toward getting a complete list of those who went on the ill-fated excursion, definite figures as to the number of missing cannot be given.

From present indications, however, it is anticipated that the death toll will total nearly 1,000.

To-morrow nearly 100 policemen who speak German will begin a house-to-house canvas for the purpose of verifying the list of the missing.

JUNE 21

Was The Longest Day In the Year

Slowly but surely for the last three months, the direct rays of the sun have been moving northward but Tuesday the highest latitude to which these direct rays ever approached was reached as they fell directly upon the tropic of cancer.

The sun rose at 4:44 o'clock and set at 7:19 o'clock, thus making the day 14 hours and 35 minutes long and the night 9 hours and 25 minutes.

TAME AFFAIR

Was the Republican Convention Nominating Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

Platform Recommends Interference With Elective Franchise In Southern States.

Chicago, June 22.—The Republican National Convention was called to order for the transaction of the business of the second day at 12:25 p. m., by temporary chairman Root. It took three or four minutes for the convention to become quiet when the chairman introduced Rev. Father Thomas E. Cox, of Chicago, who offered prayer, asking for the Divine protection of the country and control of the delegates in their deliberations.

The attendance at the convention was a little larger than on the previous day, but there was none of the exciting clamor for admission that usually prevails on such occasions, this being due to the necessary lack of excitement in the convention, where the outcome of everything was known beforehand.

Hitt Withdrawn.

Senator Culom created mild suspense by announcing that the name of Hon. R. R. Hitt would not be presented to the convention as a candidate for Vice-President. This made the nomination of Fairbanks by acclamation a certainty.

Stalwarts Seated.

The principal contest to be decided by the committee on credentials was the fight between the regulars and the stalwarts from Wisconsin. The sub-committee of the committee on credentials heard the arguments on both sides and reported in favor of the Spooner delegation and against the LoFollette crowd. The committee on credentials accepted the report, and when the general report was made to the convention it was adopted without a dissenting voice. The report of the committee on credentials was then adopted as a whole.

Permanently Organized.

Chairman Johnson, of the committee on organization, reported the name of Hon. Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, as permanent chairman. The report was adopted with great enthusiasm. Chairman Cannon was escorted to the chair and introduced by Temporary Chairman Root.

The Platform.

The committee on resolutions presented the platform, which was adopted amid much enthusiasm. Much of the platform is devoted to a resume of what the Republican party has accomplished—the freeing of Cuba, the suppression of insurrection in the Philippines and the securing of the route and providing for the building of the Panama canal being dwelt on at some length.

The tariff part of the platform insists on the maintenance of the principles of protection and therefore the rates of duty should be readjusted from time to time, but only when changed conditions and public interest demanded alteration.

This work, however, cannot safely be left to any other hands than those of the Republican party.

The upholding of the gold standard is declared to be the duty of the Republican party.

Legislation which tends to the up-building of an American merchant marine is demanded.

It is asserted that a navy powerful enough to defend the country against any attack is a necessity, and the party pledges itself to the creation of such a navy.

It is the purpose of the Republican party to uphold the Monroe doctrine.

It is declared that the enforcement of the civil service law is essential to the proper administration of the government.

The peaceful settlement of international difficulties by arbitration is favored.

The vigorous efforts of the ad-mobilization to protect American citizens in foreign lands is commended.

It is recommended that Congress take action to discover whether by special discrimination in State statutes the elective franchise is unconstitutionally denied to any class of voters.

Committee Announced.

After the adoption of the platform the names of the new national committeemen were announced.

The First Roll Call.

The first roll call of the convention was on the motion to allow Hawaii six votes instead of two. This unexpected delay did not please the convention, which was anxious for action on more important subjects.

Roosevelt was delayed by the convention over the question of admitting the delegates from Hawaii. The convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The Ticket Named.

Chicago, June 23.—The convention reconvened this morning at 10 o'clock and candidates were formally presented. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, was nominated for President, receiving the votes of every state.

Senator Chas. W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, was nominated for Vice-President at 2:08 p. m. by acclamation, all other candidates having withdrawn.

LAFAYETTE NEWS.

R. W. Brandon Qualifies as Administrator—Other Items.

Lafayette, Ky., June 21.—Messrs. Jasper Faqua and Harry Thacker, after a two weeks' visit here among relatives and friends, left this morning for their home in Dallas, Texas, accompanied by Miss Julia Purcell, who expects to spend several months in Dallas with her brother, Mr. Walter Purcell. Mr. Irwin Fraser, who came home from Denison, Texas, with the boys, could not be induced to return so soon, as he has more to "Wina" by prolonging his visit than they.

R. W. Brandon qualified yesterday as administrator of his father's estate. Mrs. C. E. Brandon is guardian for her son, Carter, C.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN.

Prominent Citizen Passes Away at Pleasant View.

Mr. Wiley J. Gossett, father of Mr. J. E. Gossett, the Julian merchant, died suddenly last Sunday afternoon at his home in Pleasant View, Tenn. The deceased had been a prosperous farmer for many years and was a prominent citizen. He had been in bad health for a year or more, but was able to be up nearly all of the time. Death was due to heart disease. He was in his 87th year and is survived by a widow and three children.

His son at Julian attended the funeral which took place Tuesday.

CROFTON CONTEST.

Old Time Fiddlers Will Again Meet in Concert.

Preparations are being made to hold another Old Time Fiddlers' contest at Crofton early in July. The exact date has not yet been decided upon. When the first contest was held at that place a rainy night was encountered and many from the country who intended being present were prevented from attending on account of the muddy roads.

USE FOR WORN-OUT RUBBER

Even the Smallest Scraps Are Now Utilized in the Various Manufactures.

It used to be a favorite remark of one of Chicago's largest packers that so many uses have been discovered for the hog that when he was killed nothing about him was lost but his squeal. As with the hog so it is with the product of the rubber tree—nothing tangible is lost, says the Chronicle.

Worn-out rubber, like worn-out silver, is something that does not exist in these days.

Ever since the advent of bicycles and motor cars, both of which drew heavily on the world's rubber supply, and ever since the hundred and one uses to which rubber is put in connection with electricity, the material has become more and more scarce and valuable, so that even the old rubber shoe and the worn-out rubber boot may throw out their chests in pride at being worth really something. Nothing containing rubber is discarded nowadays. The old rubber coat over which the spring tires of a motor car may run on a country road today may some day find a nesting place in the soft tresses of a woman's hair, after having been transformed into a handsome comb.

Even vulcanized rubber, which owing to the sulphuric process to which it was subjected, was formerly valueless, is now subject to a process which rejuvenates it and makes it fit to be worked up again for the purposes of the manufacturer. Immense quantities of this product, which formerly was assigned to a rubbish heap, are now treated and admixed with a certain percentage of new gum, enough to cheapen the price of most rubber goods turned out by the manufacturer to-day. Old rubber, however, can be used by itself without any addition of fresh gum, the process of treatment being a simple one.

RING ON A SWEET POTATO.

Long-Lost Wedding Circle Found Imbedded About the Center of the Tuber.

Rev. J. E. Curry, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Cranbury, N. J., according to the New York Tribune, vouches for the following: Some years ago Miss Brown, now the wife of Rev. H. H. Sleeper, rector of Grace Episcopal church in Elizabeth, N. J., lost her mother's wedding ring, as she supposed, in the sawdust of the gymnasium attached to the Brainerd Institute in Cranbury. One day, when the incident had been forgotten, Miss Brown's servant was preparing for dinner sweet potatoes, which had just been brought in from the garden. She noticed one with a peculiar band around the center, making it appear as though two potatoes had grown together. She laid it aside to show to her mistress. Something about the shape of the band attracted Mrs. Brown's attention at once, and investigation revealed the fact that it was the long-lost wedding ring, badly tarnished, yet whole as the day it was lost. A little reflection solved the mystery. The ring had been lost, not in the gymnasium, but in the chip yard, from which the rotting particles had been taken to enrich the sweet potato hills. One of the young tubers had grown through the circle of the ring, and thus brought it again to the light, and restored it to its place on Mrs. Brown's finger, where it is now worn with greater joy than ever.

Power of Russian Church.

The chief procurator of Russia, in a late report to the czar on the state of Russian religion, brings out the fact that the power and wealth of the Greek church are immense. There are 66,730 of these churches in the empire. During the last year 833 new places of worship were consecrated. In connection with these churches there are 16,658 monks and 36,146 nuns. There are 2,050 head priests and 43,743 ordinary priests. These together with 58,156 deacons and underdeacons, make a grand total, along with seven other divisions, the figures of which are not given exactly, of 170,000 persons in official positions. A sum of nearly $6,000,000 was paid by the Russian people last year for the support of this vast organization.

J SOULE SMITH DEAD. VAN WYCK MAKES $1,200,000.

Past Grand Master of Kentucky, a Confederate Soldier And a Writer.

Lington, Ky., June 20.—Judge J. Soule Smith, attorney, jurist and perhaps the best informed member of the Masonic order in the United States, dropped dead this morning at his home in this city. Death was due to heart disease, and came without any immediate warning. Judge Smith was born in Hamilton county, Fla., March 20, 1848, and was therefore just past his 50th birthday. He entered the Confederate army as a boy of fifteen and served all through the civil war as a member of Gen. J. B. Gordon's brigade in the Army of Northern Virginia. He was several times wounded, and was captured at the battle of W. Shiloh, Tenn., April 19, 1864.

At the close of the war he took charge of a plantation near Lington, Fla., from which place he subsequently moved to Fayette county, Kentucky. Settling in Lexington, he supported himself by teaching school in the day and reading law in the evenings. He was graduated from the law department of Kentucky University in 1871, and in 1875 was made a professor of common law in that institution.

Aside from the practice of law, Judge Smith was noted for his ardent interest in Masonry, and his love of literary pursuits. He for some time edited the Lexington Observer and Reporter, and was up to the time of his death a vigorous writer, contributing to many newspapers and magazines. He usually wrote under the nom de plume of "Falcon." He was a genial, courteous and cultured gentleman, and was liked by all who knew him.

Career in Politics.

In politics Judge Smith was a Democrat, and was always a leader of the party in Fayette county. At different times he held the offices of city attorney, county attorney, police court judge, city assessor and member of the general council.

Former Mayor of New York Explains His Desuetude of Politics.

New York, June 20.—Friends of the former Mayor Robert Van Wyck, who sails for Europe on the Campania tomorrow, learned tonight why he has snapped his fingers at politics, ignored the St. Louis convention, to which he is a delegate, and is going abroad for a vacation of many months.

The explanation is a remarkable streak of luck in Wall Street, which has made him $1,200,000 richer. Mr. Van Wyck said today he had cleaned up a half million in steel alone. He has decided, he says, to give up business altogether and enjoy himself.

That tired feeling, take a dose of Herbs. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50 cts a bottle. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

THE CAPE SABLE HORSEFLY.

Pest of Florida Swamps with a Bite
That Drives Blood Like a Knife Thrust.

A dreadful pest of the lower Florida swamps is the Cape Sable horsefly. Specimens measure an inch and a quarter in length. Their bite draws blood like the thrust of a knife, says a writer in Country Life in America. Imagine a swarm of them darting around one like so many hummingbirds! Fortunately they are not, at least early in the season, particularly inclined to attack man. The only domestic animal that can live in this country is the mule, and even his tough hide requires a flyproof stable for its protection and a suit of armor when outdoors. One day I engaged a mule and traps to save several miles of weary lugging along the strip of prairie before we struck off into the interior to visit a great rookery. When the guide brought the animal it presented a truly remarkable appearance, clad in a suit of burlap that would have afforded complete protection, save that the legs of the "trousers" had been slit down, as the animal could hardly have been induced to put them on. So the flaps hung dangling about the legs, the ears projected above, and the calm eyes gazed out through the loops, surveying the swarm of flies and the stranger. We left him tied to a palm tree for the day. At dusk, when we returned, the legs of the poor beast were dripping with blood and he was fairly frantic with pain. We had a stormy experience in harnessing him, having to be very spry to avoid being killed by the flying hoofs. I felt sorry for the mule that was born to live in such a country.

FOOD OF THE JAPANESE.

A Diet That Is Extremely Simple with Fish as the Staple Article.

The Jap at home in time of peace, or the Jap in the field in time of war would scarcely be accounted an epicure from the western point of view. His diet is simple in the extreme. Fish is the staple article of food in Japan. Raw fish is a luxury. When the Jap stays away from his native islands for a few years, however, he usually acquires a taste for cooked foods. A writer in the Sunday Magazine recalls the case of a Japanese friend who returned home after a long absence abroad. He tried several times to regale himself on uncooked fish. Each time he was made sick. Civilization had cured him of the habit. At the date of the revolution in 1868-'69, there was not a pound of meat or flesh food of any kind in Japan, no milk, butter or cheese. Potatoes, cabbage and tomatoes were unknown; there were only a few flavorless and acid fruits and a few common vegetables. There was a time, before Buddhism was introduced into Japan, when, according to the Sunday Magazine, the Japanese were both hunters and fishermen, when they lived to a large extent on the products of the chase—wild boars, deer, monkeys, hares and pheasants. But Buddhism interdicted killing and the Jap gave up the chase and also the rearing of domestic animals for food. He learned, however, from the Buddhist missionaries how to grow rice, wheat and other cereals and certain vegetables—radishes, turnips, onions and cucumbers.

X-Rays to Test Paintings.

The genuineness of paintings attributed to the old masters is now tested by the application of the X-ray. A gentleman of Munich who has in his collection a "Christ Crowned with Thorns," said to be the work of Albrecht Durer, was anxious to set at rest the doubts expressed by connoisseurs as to the authenticity of this painting. He accordingly had the picture photographed by means of the X-rays, with the result that Durer's monogram, surmounted by the date, 1521, was apparent, as was also a two line Latin inscription, the very existence of which was unsuspected.—Science.

From a Leading Druggist.

As druggists and retailers of patent medicines, we can say conscientiously that we have a patent that outshines them all, we sell as much as we can. Dr. C. E. Syrup, Pepsi, and that it gives satisfactory results. It is without doubt the best medicine and the largest seller that we ever had.

OSTRICHES IN ARIZONA.

Have Become Acclimated and Are Growing Larger than South African Birds.

The ostrich industry in the Salt River valley, Arizona, is fast becoming one of large commercial importance, states the New York Sun.

When the ostrich was introduced from South Africa, 11 years ago, the change of food and climate did not agree with the birds, and very little progress was made during the first years. The business requires experience, and until those engaged in it had learned everything worth knowing about ostrich culture they made little headway.

About five years ago the birds had become acclimated, their care was more thoroughly understood, and they began to thrive. It is believed that they are doing better in the Salt River valley than in South Africa.

At any rate, the American ostriches are several inches taller than those of South Africa, and their feathers are of somewhat finer quality. Full grown they stand eight feet high and weigh 200 pounds.

The rich, black, glossy feathers of the male are far superior in quality to the drab plumage of the female, and the feathers plucked every eight months are sold at high as $12.50 a pound in the eastern market. The average yield is a pound of feathers to the bird.

Over 100 ostriches are now on the alfalfa pastures in the valley, feeding contentedly on the rich herbage which makes them as fat as any ostrich should be. The climate of the valley seems to be particularly adapted to ostrich raising.

ON HOLDING THE BREATH.

Tests Have Shown That One Minute and a Half Is the Extreme Limit.

For divers engaged in certain classes of submarine work a long stay under the water is made possible by wearing a peculiar helmet, into which a steady supply of air is forced downward from a boat through a rubber tube. A man can thus stay below the surface for an hour or two without serious discomfort. Submergence without any such help means holding one's breath, and that is a very different matter. According to the American Inventor, no one can remain under water more than two minutes without becoming unconscious, notwithstanding the claims of exhibition divers.

'At Navarino, where the sponge divers are reported to be able to remain under water three and four minutes, tests were made recently and resulted in conclusively proving that none of them remained down as long as a minute and a half. At Ceylon, where some tests were made among the famous pearl divers, it was ascertained that few of them remained below the surface as long as a minute and a half, and other tests made on the Red sea among the Arabs proved that a minute and a quarter was the longest they could endure without a fresh breath.

Drowning is a quick death. Even though the water is kept out of the lungs, insensibility will ensue in two minutes, and complete unconsciousness in three.

Pay of Parliament.

There is a strong feeling in England against the payment of members, on the ground that it would tend to create the class of professional politicians seen in foreign countries and our colonies. Its absence obviously tends to restrict membership of parliament to the well-to-do classes, and, as a matter of fact, those enjoy an overwhelming representation in the house of commons, the labor members, whose expenses and a modest salary are provided from some organization of the classes they represent, being at present a small but happily an increasing group. To compel a candidate to pay the cost of counting the votes which send him to serve in the nation in parliament is preposterous, and, after taking safeguard against a superfluous candidate, the system will probably soon be abolished.—Century.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by continually failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoon-

Mercer County Child Discovered Calmly Chewing off the Tail
of a Garter Snake.HARRISBURG, Ky., June 22.—Several days ago the little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vineyard, near this place, was missed from the family circle, and her mother, becoming uneasy over her prolonged absence, started out to look for her. After searching about the place for nearly an hour, she returned to the house, and a few minutes later discovered the child in the yard, her face and frock all covered with blood. Rushing to the baby, she was horrified to see a snake coiled about the little one's arm, striking venomously in every direction. The child ran the tail of the snake tightly clutched in her chubby fist, and she was calmly biting off the end and eating it with apparent relish. About two inches of the reptile's body had been masticated before the frantic mother tore it away. The child's face and arms were terribly bitten by the infuriated snake.Physicians were hastily summoned, who examined the wounds,
but pronounced the child in no danger. Fortunately the reptile was a garter snake, whose bite is not poisonous. It measured eighteen and a half inches. Where and

DOUBLE HEADER

Here Today With Vincennes...
Another Game Tomorrow.

Henderson Team Will Be Here
Monday for a Series of Three Games of Ball.

The program for a game in Hopkinsville between the locals and Vincennes yesterday was changed, the Indians stopping over in Henderson to play off a postponed game in that city. The Indians arrived here last midnight, however, and will play a double header with the local team this afternoon. The first game will be called at 3 o'clock and the second at 4:30. The second contest between these clubs will take place to-morrow.

Henderson will be here Monday for three games with Hopkinsville. The games to be played here this week and those of next week promise to be most interesting contests and lovers of the sport should turn out en masse to see them.

Hopkinsville won the game at Clarksville Wednesday by the score of 9 to 6. The locals baited the Tennessee twister at will, making eleven hits. The first pitcher for Clarksville was knocked out of the box and the second one faring but little better. Hopkinsville had things pretty much their own way and won in a walk.

At Cairo Wednesday, Cairo won from Vincennes. Score 3 to 1.

Paducah was victorious in the game played with Henderson at Paducah Wednesday. The score was 9 to 5.

The second game at Clarksville Tuesday between Hopkinsville and the Tennesseans was won by Clarksville. The score was 4 to 3. At the end of the eighth inning the game was 3 to 1 in favor of Hopkinsville. In the ninth the Tennesseans got on their batting clothes, and this, coupled with a costly error on the part of one of the local boys, gave Clarksville three more runs, thus winning the contest.

Tuesday's game at Paducah was won by the Paducah team. Henderson was defeated by the score of 6 to 4. Five of the six scores made by Paducah were earned runs.

The same day at Cairo, Vincennes lost by the score of 9 to 2. Errors on the part of the Indianians lost the game.

The local team lost to Clarksville in the first game of the series played at Clarksville Monday. The contest was a hard fought one and resulted in the score of 2 to 0. Neither club was able to get a man across the plate until the eighth inning, when the Tennesseans ran in two.

At Cairo Monday the Egyptians won from Vincennes, in a ten-inning contest, the score being 3 to 2.

The contest at Paducah Monday between Henderson and the Pads resulted in a victory for the latter, the score being 4 to 3. The Hens had seven errors charged to them.

Forrest Morris, who was injured in a game at Henderson about a month ago, while not fully recovered, will participate in the games here. He will pitch for the locals in one of the games today.

Wallace Evans, of Louisville, who is with the Henderson team, broke his collar bone and arm Tuesday afternoon in the game at Paducah by being run into by Sherman, of Paducah, who claimed that Evans was blocking him at second. The accident will put Evans out of the game for a month or more.

Bachelor of Science.

Will Edward Gary, a son of Mr. R. C. Gary, of Pembroke, is at home from State College, Lexington, where he took the degree of Bachelor of Science. Mr. Gary will rest up a year from his studies and then take up the study of medicine. He is an all-round athlete and stood well up in his school work.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

It is interesting to note that H. Phillips, one of the best jockeys riding on American tracks at the present time, has his stirrups leathered a trifle longer than most of the other jockeys. This gives him a seat that is less insecure, enables him to control his horse better and must be more comfortable. At the same time, lengthening his stirrups does not prevent him from riding as far and as fast as the others.

Mr. Phillips, a jockey, is the best in this country, was chiefly at the front in the long distances, four-mile heats being the favorite race. The courses were a mile around, and horses were trained as well as raced on them, and ran their races almost mechanically. Long, slow and heavy racing was the sort of preparation that Phillips had, and the best rider, rather than the fastest horse, won. With the inauguration of Jerome Park shorter distances and English jockeys were introduced. One of the first of these, William Hayes, was a great sensation by walking till near the end of the race, and his effort, and coming with a rush since that time distances raced over have been made shorter and shorter, races have increased enormously in value and the volume of betting on them has assumed vast proportions. The developed so much competition that until about seven years ago, all ideas pertaining to horsemanship, sportsmanship or the improvement of the horse or rider were lost sight of in the effort to develop those accessories of racing from which the greatest revenue could be obtained.

The outcome of all this was conditions that called for a quick break and a short burst of high speed on the part of the horse, and a forward, hustling style of riding on the part of the jockey. These are the qualities that have led to the modern seat, aided by the lightness of weight brought about by the competition referred to between the associations, which induces them to embody in the conditions of their advertised races many fancied advantages in the way of "allowances."

Arthur Duffy, of Georgetown University, one of the leaders of the world's record for 9.3-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash, has planned to undertake the most extensive sprinting tour of any American athlete ever made. In addition to going to England, Scotland and Wales, as he has done for the last four years, Duffy has decided to make an excursion to Australia and New Zealand, where he will give exhibitions and compete in 100-yard and shorter sprint races throughout the island colony. Duffy's tour will be a great success, as he is to make his first appearance at the English championships on July 2. Then he will exhibit and compete in the various country meets in England, Scotland and Ireland, later crossing to the continent for a short stay. Arriving in Australia the latter part of July, he expects to make the national championships at Sydney on September 1. During the remainder of that month he will make a tour of the various colonies, similar to that of the countries in Great Britain. It is said that when he completes his competition in Australia it will be his final appearance as an amateur, and that he will retire permanently at that time.

The Brookline Handicap (1 1/4 miles) at Gravesend was won this year by The Picket by a head from the favorite, Irish Lad. Proper was third, two points behind. The race was run in 1:55 3-5.

The international chess tournament, recently held at Cambridge Springs, Pa., has been concluded. Marshall won the contest, Lasker and Janowski being second and third. Marcell fourth. Showalter fifth, while Schlechter and Tschigorin were placed sixth and seventh places.

Evans, of Louisville, has set a new world's record for five-men teams at tennis. He has broken an Omaha team, which bowled a total of 2,280.

The record for a single game by five men was also established at 1,186, the previous high score being 1,164, held by an English team.

Forrest Kramer, the well-known cyclist, who has been doing wonderful work of late, smashed the American one mile handicap bicycle record of 1:55 3-5 at Vicksburg recently by covering the distance in 1:52 3-5 from scratch.

The New York Athletic club, on behalf of Oxford and Cambridge universities, has sent a challenge to Harvard and Yale to hold an athletic meeting in London this summer.

In the western Pennsylvania swimming championships at Bradford recently Guy M. Daly, of Pittsburgh, established a new world's record for 97 yards, covering the distance in 55 seconds, with three turns.

GUESSWORK

Were Plans Submitted For New State Capitol

Man Who Received Concession Talks Interestingly of the Project.

Cincinnati, O., June 24.—Plans for Kentucky's new $1,000,000 capitol building are very much in the embryo, according to Architect Frank M. Andrews, of Dayton, O., who was selected over fifty competitors to supervise the work. Sketches submitted at the time the capitol commission selected the architect could be little more than guess work," said Mr. Andrews to a correspondent at the St. Nicholas hotel. "I submitted none and will not do so until visiting with the commissioners the capitals of Cincinnati, Miss., and Providence, R. I. The former cost about $1,100,000 and the latter $1,000,000, and after considering the best features of each and avoiding what we consider undesirable, the first sketches will be drawn. Even these will be subject to the approval of the commission, consisting of Gov. Rockham and the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general. After their final approval the plans and specifications will be made and as soon as possible the actual work will commence.

"Of course, it would be the most specious to fix a time within which the capital will be completed. This much is certain: I shall build it as I would an office building or a hotel, that is to say in the shortest possible time consistent with thorough work and attention to details.

"It will not drag (barring unexpected interferences,) as many public buildings do and will be finished within the amount of the appropriation.

"It will be conducted as a plain business proposition, just as it has been started. And just here I want to say that since my selection such men as Cass Gilbert, of New York, and Mann, of St. Louis, have expressed to me in terms of utmost sincerity their gratification that the selection was made on business lines and not on partisan lines. I am a Republican, having never scratched a ticket and had absolutely no political influence with Democratic leaders in Kentucky.

"Under these circumstances there can be no public scandal such as has disgraced the erection of state buildings in New York and Pennsylvania. The work will be watched most carefully of course, by the people and press, and possibly criticized, but investigation from start to finish will be welcome and will unearth no fraud, for there will be no 'allowances.'

ROBBED SAFE.

Chief Secured $50 From Hopkinsville Steam Laundry.

The safe of the Hopkinsville Steam Laundry was broken open Wednesday night and rifled of its cash, about $50. The thief entered the building by prizing open a side window. The outer door of the safe had been left unlocked and the inside door was pried. The cash was in an iron box. The robber carried the box out doors and used a chisel to open it. One dime and a check for $1 were left in the safe. There were a number of checks and other valuable papers in the safe, but nothing but the cash was taken. The thief left no clue.

Fined $25 Each.

Mike Moran and Ralph Hall, the men charged with assaulting and beating a companion in the L. & N. yards here Monday night, were fined $25 and costs each. The injured man gave his name as Pat Burch.

FILLED WITH SHOT.

Gip Griffin Attempts to Kill
Henry Warner.

Wounded Man Has a Chance to Recover and Griffin has Fled.

Henry Warner, a farmer living several miles east of Crofton, was shot and it is believed at this writing mortally wounded, Wednesday morning, by Gip Griffin. The weapon used was a double-barrel shotgun and both loads were fired into Warner at a range of only ten or twelve feet. Warner was hit in right leg, hip, and bowels. The trouble came up over a dispute about crops. Griffin was a tenant on Warner's farm. They were in a field on Warner's place.

After shooting Warner with both barrels of his gun, Griffin walked up to him and knocked him down with the butt of the gun, which made a severe gash in his forehead.

A physician who was summoned attended to the wounded man, removing more than 40 shot from him. They were probably squirrel shot, though this point was not made clear by our informant.

Sheriff Davis and Officer Walker went to Warner's place Wednesday night, but Griffin had gone and they returned yesterday without being able to arrest him. Detective W. H. Nixon took his bloodhounds out yesterday to prosecute the search. Reports yesterday were that Warner had a good chance to recover.

Warner is a very large man and his robust physique will be in his favor. He is about 65 years old.

Griffin is a young man.

SNAKE FOR BEDFELLOW.

Mother Twice Aroused, Refused to Investigate Until Morning.

Bristol, Tenn., June 22.—The little five year old son of Mrs. Nancy Cannon residing at Limestone, East Tennessee awoke at 10 o'clock in the night and told his mother that a snake was in his bed. The mother regarding it as a fancy, and scoldingly insisted that the little fellow should be quiet and go back to sleep. Sobbing with fear the little fellow soon became quiet but in a short while his mother was again aroused by the cries of the child, who insisted a snake was in the bed. The mother was still unwilling to believe that it was anything more than a fancy, and vehemently scolded the child until he again became quiet. At intervals through the night she was aroused by the sobbing of the child whose fear had thrown him into a state of terror. The mother still had no faith in the story and the night was over without an investigation.

At daybreak, when Mrs. Cannon arose to go about her household duties, remembering the fretting of the little boy during the night, she turned the cover down where the child lay asleep, and there coiled up beside the youth, lay an unusually large black snake about five feet in length. Seizing her boy, the mother lifted him quickly from the bed. The disturbance aroused the snake, and before Mrs. Cannon could find any instrument suitable to kill the reptile with it had left the bed, which was in an upstairs chamber, and crawled up the wall into the garret. The snake has not been seen since, and the family have been in mighty dread of another bite. The child was not in any way injured by its hideous companion.

On their return they will make their home at Guthrie.

DOCTOR ADVOCATED OPERATION —PE-RU-NA MADE KNIFE UNNECESSARY.

Mrs. Eva Bartho, 105 East 12th street, New York City, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered for three years with leucitis and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation which I dreaded very much, and strongly objected to going under the knife. Peruna cured me; it took nine bottles, but I felt so much improved I kept taking it, as I dreaded an operation so much. I am to-day in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years."

"It is a great relief to me to know whether persons can be relied on to cure all such cases. During the many years in which Peruna has been put to test in all forms and stages of acute and chronic catarrh no one year has put this remedy to greater test than the past year.

"Persons who are suffering with any form of female weakness would write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and give him a complete description of their symptoms and the peculiarities of their troubles, he will immediately reply with complete directions for treatment, free of charge."

A WOMAN'S BACK.

Aches and Pains Will Disappear
If the Advice of This Hopkinsville Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault.
Backache is really kidney ache.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills
cure it.

Many Hopkinsville women know
this.

Read what one has to say about
it:

Miss L. A. Hoster, of 212 East 14th street says: "To walk for any distance or to over exert myself in any way, intensified the aching in my back, from which I was a long time a continual sufferer, and if I caught cold it seemed to settle in the same region and made me almost miserable. When rising in the morning I felt stiff and sore, and often found it difficult to dress myself. Another symptom of my complaint was a weakness of the kidneys, which annoyed and distressed me beyond words. I doctored but found little if any relief
until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, which had been strongly recommended to me, and which I procured at Thomas & Trabern's drug store.
They did me a vast amount of good.
The pain in my back ceased, the secretions were regulated and my health was improved generally.
The pills perform what they promise
in every way.

Every mother is Trained Nurse.
It sounds terribly advanced to suggest that every mother should be a trained nurse. And it really might discourage matronry if every girl thought that she had to precede her honeymoon with a wearisome four years' course at a hospital.

But what is really meant by this expression of "trained nurse" is not a hospital diploma but merely a certain careful home training in the essential work of the nursery which will make the care of children, both in health and sickness,
a much easier task than when underaken with ignorance, however much the ignorance might be coupled with love and duty.

Of course the more affection and devotion in the nursery the better, but these two qualities at their best cannot accomplish without knowledge, what can be done with intelligent training.

I don't know why it is that the expression "doing a thing intelligently" always suggests a great deal of effort and time, while the truth is that the minute you know how to do a thing well, you begin to save time and strength.

It is not remedying evil, but preventing evil that makes life more comfortable and enjoyable. And although there may be at times unavoidable sickness in the nursery, the mother with training can unquestionably save her babies a great many illnesses and herself endless exhaustion if she knows how to keep the nursery a wholesome, attractive place and how to do it easily and pleasantly.

Of course in the nursery, as in the kitchen, the greatest preventive of sickness is scrupulous cleanliness. This does not merely mean the tidy sweeping and dusting which keeps a room attractive and which, of course, every mother does instinctively and gladly, but the sort of cleanliness that disinfects
the cleaning that routs the proud germ, that is the undoing of the self-satisfied insect that makes the air of the city room as sweet to breathe as that of a log cabin in the mountains.

Now, it is the part of the training of the modern mother to find out a way to do all these things easily as well as thoroughly, and if she lives in the city away from wells and cisterns her first difficulty in every sort of cleaning is hard water. If she actually attempts to get things clean with hard water she uses up her time and her strength so completely that she is soon worn out and discouraged.

There are various ways of softening water ammonia will do, and so will different patent cleaning fluids, but without exception they are injurious to wood-work and ruinous to hands. And it is not demanded that any woman sacrifice all her time, beauty and youth for household work. It is training that puts in the hand of the modern mother a reasonable solution for almost every domestic problem. And if hard water and ammonia hurt the hands and cleaning fluid hurts the furniture, then the trained woman hunts about for something that will clean without hurting anything. And after much hunting and frequent questions
she has discovered that the one thing that will make water soft without injury in fact with general benefit, is borax.

Borax will not only clean nicely,
but acts as a germicide and insecticide as well. Physicians and trained nurses recognize it as one of the most harmless and simplest purifiers known.

So that while the wise, modern woman is getting her nursery clean with soft water that takes but little time and energy, she is at the same time disinfecting the rooms and destroying all possibility of germ life, thus creating an atmosphere that is perfectly antiseptic, and, of course, much sweeter than could be found in the ideal baby hospital ward.

It is easy to see in this instance,
at least, that knowing a few things simplifies life, by giving the baby a better chance for health, in saving the mother's time by giving an increased measure of comfort with a decreased amount of labor.

A teaspoonful of borax to a gallon of water, is an excellent proportion for softening water and accomplishing good work in the way of germ destructor. Water containing this amount of borax can be used on light or dark woodwork, on highly polished furniture, on hard-wood floors; for washing the baby's clothes for disinfecting all nursery

TOBACCO NEWS.

Hogheads Receipts Heaviest for Many Years.

Eight hundred hogheads of tobacco were received here this week. This is the largest number of hogheads received here in any one week for several years. This brings the receipts for the year up to 5,425 hogheads. Sales for the week amounted to $30 hogheads. There were only 33 rejections. Sales for the year amount to 3,501 hogheads.

The loose sales on the floor by R. M. Wooldridge & Co. were again heavy, about 250,000 pounds of the weed being disposed of in this manner. Prices were considered good all along the line. Leaf was from 50¢ to 75¢ higher than last week, while lugs held their own.

Wooldridge & Co. sold some fine leaf for Mr. Omer White, of North Christian, at $9.60. This was the highest price obtained on the loose floor this season.

Quotations are as follows: Trash, $2.25 to $2.50; lugs, $2.75 to $3.25; leaf, $3.50 to $9.60. This was about the best sale held here for a month. Loose receipts continue good.

ANOTHER DEPARTMENT

Added to the Kentucky Farmer and Breeder—H. F. Hillenmeyer Will Answer Inquiries.

The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder, the weekly farm and stock paper established at Lexington the first of the year, which has broken all circulation records by obtaining a paid in advance circulation of 12,500 within three and a half months of its establishment, has just added another department of interest and value to its subscribers. It has induced Mr. Hector F. Hillenmeyer, the leading horticulturist not only of Kentucky, but of the Central States, to take charge of a department of correspondence in which all inquiries pertaining to fruit and forest trees, to vines and agricultural produce will be answered. Any inquiries on any of these subjects addressed to the Kentucky Farmer and Breeder will be answered by Mr. Hillenmeyer in the succeeding issues.

To wide and varied experience Mr. Hillenmeyer adds accurate and scientific information with the power of clear expression in perfect English. His services could not be obtained by any paper save through his desire to give to others the benefit of his knowledge and experience, and he has consented to conduct this department for the subscribers of The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder purely as a labor of love.

The paper and the wide circle of people who read it are to be congratulated upon the establishment of this department under Mr. Hillenmeyer's able direction.

AUDITOR'S AGENT.

Young Jim Campbell Named to Succeed Frank Lucas.

James Campbell, Jr., has been appointed revenue agent at large to succeed Agent Frank Lucas of Paducah. This appointment by Auditor Hager again opens the question of Lucas' appointment. Lucas was appointed for a term of four years by former Auditor Coulter two years ago. Hager claims Coulter's appointee should go out, but the auditor's agents contend they were appointed for four years and can hold on for two years yet. Auditor Hager makes his appointments now anyhow and beholds Coulter's appointees who are fighting the question in court.

DR. FOGARTY

Likely to be Called as Pastor of Ninth-Street Church.

Rev. L. H. Pauls who preached at the Ninth Street Presbyterian church last Sunday, has not been called to the pastorate, as was reported. It is more than likely that Dr. Fogarty, the present temporary supply, will be formally called. Dr. Fogarty will preach Sunday morning and evening.

UNITED FIGHT

To be Made for The Gaines Tobacco Bill.

Nashville, Tenn., June 22.—The Hon. John W. Gaines received a letter this morning from the Hon. John S. Rhea, Congressman from the Third Kentucky district, stating that he was with him in the fight against the tobacco buyers' trust, and would call a meeting of the tobacco growers of his district in a few days for the purpose of securing evidence to be used in the prosecution of the "trust."

Other Kentucky congressmen, who have promised to lend every possible assistance in the fight against the trust, are the Hon. Ollie S. James, of the First district; A. O. Stanley, of the Second, and Frank Hopkins, of the Tenth. Mr. Gaines feels encouraged at the prompt responses that have been made to the call for assistance in securing evidence against the "trust," the burden of which has been thrown upon him by the Attorney General.

Niagara's Scenic Tunnel.

The scenic tunnel under the Horseshoe Falls of the Niagara, which has just been completed, was undertaken for the Niagara Falls Queen Victoria Park Commission in order to provide a perfectly safe view of the cataract from below. A shaft was sunk 127 feet and from this a tunnel was constructed, curving out under the Horseshoe Falls 800 feet. From this lateral were run into the gorge, where large observation rooms will be constructed of glass where tourists can sit in easy chairs and look out. A large electric elevator has been put into the shaft, and from the bottom a large board walk has been constructed to the mouth of the various tunnels.
